MRS. DONALD GRANT PASSES AT HILLCREST

It was with saddened hearts that the many friends of Mrs. D. A. Grant heard of her death on Monday, Feb. 6. Mrs. Grant was an old friend of Hillcrest and before her illness eight years ago was a very active worker in all the worth while community projects. She was an extensive church worker, for many years being president of the Ladies Aid. She was well known in town and throughout the district for her many kindnesses, her generous hospitality, and was respected and loved by all who knew her. Effie Maclean was born on April 22nd 1885 at Schooner's Pond, Cape Breton. In 1903 she was married to Donald A. Grant. In 1913 Mr. and Mrs. Grant and their six children came west. They lived in Cranbrook until 1916 when they moved to Hillcrest where they have since resided. The two younger children were born in Hillcrest.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Grant leaves to mourn her passing 5 sons, John of Crockett, California, Donald of Calgary, Alec and Angus of Hillcrest and Ferguson of Edmonton, two daughters. Mrs. H. Van Deuren of Whithy, Ontario and Mrs. C. Pitt of Hillcrest. A brother, Niel MacLean and a sister Mrs. J. A. Robertson of Nova Scotia. She was predeceased by her son George, who was killed in action in the spring of 1945. Three sons, Joris, Donald and Ferguson arrived home on Friday to be at their mother's bedside. John having made the trip from California by plane. Funeral services were held on Wednesday. A short family service being held at the home at 1.30 p.m. and a public service in the United Church at 2 o'clock. To pastor Rev. W. H. Irwin spoke fittingly of the deceased, the useful life she had lived, the comfort and cheer she had brought to so many and of the esteem in which she was held by all in the community. Pallbearers were her five sons, John, Donald, Alec, Angus and Ferguson and her son-in-law Cyril Pitt. Burial was in the United Church cemetery. "A wonderful mother God did us leave, A wonderful woman, a true loyal friend."

To all she was loving, tender and kind, What a wonderful memory she leaves behind."

REV. L. S. MANN INDUCTED RECTOR PASS CHURCHES

The Bishop of Calgary, the Rt. Rev. H. R. Ragg, visited Coleman on Wednesday last in order to conduct the ceremony of the Induction and Institution of the Rev. L. S. Mann, A.K.O., as the new rector of the parish of Coleman-Blairmore. (Mr. Mann succeeds the Rev. W. Grainger who, as Pass residents will know, has been forced to resign the living for health reasons.)

The bitter unkindness of the weather did not prevent an excellent representative gathering in the church. Blairmore as well as Coleman attending well. The Anglican bishop is a man of attractive personality, informal, and of a very simple but very magnetic faith; coupled with which, an induction is always an event in any English church and it was obvious that supporting members did not intend that hard weather should interfere with their faithful attendance at the Service. Supporting the Bishop (and acting as his Chaplain for the occasion) was the Rev. R. N. R. Holmes, (the Rural Dean) who came up from Macleod with one of his churchwardens for the occasion. The Rector of Pincher Creek and the principal of S. Cyprian's school, Bracket, both wished to be present but were hindered by the weather.

The service followed the usual order as set forth in the Prayer Book, Mr. F. Graham and Mr. H. M. Bennett, the respective Wardens of Coleman and Blairmore, representing the laity of the two parts of the parish. Enthusiastic singing and a very intense application by the congregation to the various stages of the Service (and particularly to the Six Obligations, five entered upon by the newly appointed Rector, and one by the assembled people), culminated in a short and simple but equally sincere address by the Bishop. Among the points of his talk were his emphasis upon the due internal aspect of the Service, in which not only is the priest dedicated to the spiritual service of his people but they also are committed to responsibility no less far reaching. Both priest and people would do well continually to remind themselves of this by more than occasional reference to the Form of Service as printed in their respective prayer-books. A further point was the Bishop's wise comparison between the twin attributes of faithfulness and popularity. These, he told his attentive listeners, do sometimes go hand in hand, but only very rarely. Normally where the Parish Priest was concerned they certainly did not. They travelled, on the contrary, divergent and very opposite roads, and it was perhaps a far better thing that a Rector should have said of him that he was faithful rather than that he was popular. As an ideal was the combination of the two, but this was seldom achieved, faithfulness normally having to suffer and give ground for the sake of popularity. Nor would this seem remarkable to any who wished to give the matter serious thought. The service closed with the Bishop's Benediction, after which the members of the congregations and the clergy (including Dr. Ragg) adjourned to the Parish Hall where the Women's Guild had prepared a most varied and generous supper. For those who, with the Bishop, had already dined sumptuously at Mrs. Graham's table (the wife of the Coleman Peoples' Warden) this might well have proved an ordeal, but the deliciousness of the sandwiches and the deliciousness of the cakes did not permit of such a situation arising. The Bishop, during the supper, bid an informal and witty welcome to the new Rector, to be followed by the Rural Dean, Mr. Holmes, who added his Deanery's welcome. To these short and friendly speeches Mr. Mann made his suitable reply, asking for the prayerful co-operation of his people in all that required to be done in the parish. He apologized for the quite unavoidable absence of Mrs. Mann from this part of the proceedings (although she had attended the actual service in the church). She was primarily the mother of a still quite young daughter whose

These are Coleman's youngest twins, Terry and Lorna Olivia, in their lovely new carriage bought for them by the many kind friends of the Pass towns. The other children are his sister Donna, aged four, and Lanny, aged three, now the man of the house.

In the spirit of sympathy Mr. John Lockhart kindly offered to solicit donations from his patrons as he made his usual calls with his Ravleigh products with the idea of trying to raise sufficient money to purchase a carriage for the twins. Mr. Lockhart reports that the response was very good and joins with the children and their mother in expressing thanks for the kindly reception afforded him and of the fine support from all.

It will be recalled that the twins were born two months after their father was killed in the International mine last August.

FILM LIBRARY SET UP

A film library has been set up by the National Film Board in the RCMP barracks, Blairmore, and towards which all Pass towns will contribute to its financial support. Mr. Clayton Bricker, Field representative for southern Alberta, has been endeavoring to set up this library in the Pass area for the past three years and only last week succeeded in securing the support of organizations to finance the library. As a result eighteen films are now available for screening to any Pass school or organization. Three Lions clubs in the Pass are sponsoring the library financially, having given assurance that they will purchase the necessary $200 of new film annually. Each service club will appoint its own film committee which will supervise screenings in the respective towns. Each club will also be responsible for training men to operate the projectors and attend every screening of film in their respective towns. Any organization desiring to use film will pay a $1 fee for the evening, regardless of how much film they use.

There are now seven libraries in the province and during the course of a year all film in each library will have been rotated so that each library will have at one time or another have had the opportunity of all available film in provincial libraries. Film is exchanged every two months and it is hoped that in this area there will be fifteen screenings each month.

A projector has been placed in the Pass on extended loan. It can be used at any time provided there is a competent operator available. Organizations wishing to book films should contact their service club's film committee.

Any organization wishing to bring in special film on a subject of special interest to it can do so and secure the loan of the library's projector along with the service club's official operator.

Films at present in the Pass library include:

After Work; Let's All Sing; Partners In Production; Highland Doctor; Freedom And Famine; Ukrainian Christmas; When Do We Eat; Youth in Crisis; John Bull's Own Island; Canadian Screen Magazine; Singing Pipes; Story of Oil; Building A House; A Place to Live; River of Canada; Fur Country.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

(Jan. 30)

Mr. and Mrs. G. Dangervill are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son on Sunday, January 26. This is the seventh child to bless the home, being six sons and one daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bouthillier have sold their farm home, two miles west of here on the main highway to Stan Warriner who is a returned veteran of the late war. Mr. and Mrs. Bouthillier and their two sons, Bruce and David will take up residence in Coleman where they have purchased some property. They intend making the move after the winter weather breaks.

Miss Mae Poulsen and Mr. E. S. Currie, of Morin, were quietly married in Blairmore during the Christmas holidays. Miss Poulsen was born and raised in this district. Only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Poulsen. She taught school for a few years and was well liked as a teacher. She was the recipient of many beautiful and useful wedding gifts from relatives and friends. The happy couple are making their home at Morin.

Mrs. Jean Littleton has sold her residence here to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dancy who are retiring from farm life. Mrs. Littleton came here from Scotland about thirty-two years ago, where she met and married the late Mr. Robert Littleton who died October 27, 1946. She will be leaving for New Zealand in a few weeks to join a married sister where she will make her home in future.

Winter weather which begun early with us here still hangs right with us with few breaks. It's snow and more snow with drifting storms with some of them jasting as long as seventy-two hours before spending their fury. With blocked roads most of the winter, travel has been difficult and has incurred many hardships to people and especially to those living in rural sections. From time to time many of the roads have been made possible by the use of a bulldozer coming to the rescue. Many country women haven't seen the sight of a town in weeks. With the farmers and ranchers; live stock is not faring too badly. A lot of feeding is being done.

SHORT STORY—

IS SUMMER A FRAUD?

By J. W. GARRETT

LAURENTE curled up in the corner of the big sofa with the high back and hoped no one would find her. She had come over to the club to play ping-pong, and try to ease the pain in her heart. Of course, she hadn't really expected Cary Williams to make a rush for her front-door the minute he got home, but she had thought he would call her on the telephone. After all, hadn't she written to him every day that he was overseas, and he to her? Laurente huddled lower into the depths of the sofa. Two of her friends had just entered the lobby, and she knew she was fit company for no one in her present state of mind. She had batted the ping-pong balls so hard that one of them had split; after that she had given it up.

"Where's Laurente? Anyone seen her?" The girls had come over and seated themselves on the other side of the sofa. Laurente held herself rigidly. They mustn't find her. Her face might be tear-stained. She wasn't sure that she had not been crying.

"Cary Williams is home," one of the girls said. "Guess she must be with him."

"Could be," the other replied, "but I saw her only a few minutes ago playing ping-pong."

"Oh," the first girl said, "But I know Cary's looking for her. He was in the lobby asking for her."

Laurente felt her throat tighten and her ears got warm, but her heart began to sing. She thought, "Why don't they go? I can't be caught like this. Like a fish out of water! My nose must be red!"

After what seemed interminable hours, the girls on the other side of the sofa moved away. Laurente sighed. Now, for a dash to the powder-room and a quick repair job on her face. This was one time her make-up had to be smooth—definitely!

Laurente didn't hurry too much. No point in having Cary see her for the first time in months looking like the scared battle-horse he had just left. She combed her hair smoothly, making sure Cary's favorite curl was still true. Then she powdered her nose and made a neat outline of her mouth.

with lipstick. "Smile!" she said gaily. "Life is about to begin again."

Back in the lounge Laurente cast a quick glance around it. No Cary. She smiled slightly. Where was the girl right? Had Cary really come looking for her? Why had he come to the Club? Why not at her home? Then suddenly she saw him. Cary Williams as ever. But not looking for her!

The quick surge of pride that she had felt on seeing him died suddenly. Cary was standing in the middle of a large group of people and a beautiful girl with snapping black eyes had a possessive hand on his arm. Laurente stood frozen to the spot. No one saw her. No one was even the slightest bit interested in her. She turned toward the door and slipped out of it.

Laurente walked all the way home. It was ten long blocks, but it could have been ten miles and that would have been too short. "To think that I ever dreamed... ever hoped..." She glanced at the profusion of summer flowers along the way and they looked like just so many blobs of color. Summer was a fraud! Summer was only in the heart, and Laurente's heart was tightly encased in ice! She couldn't even feel it beat.

No one was at home. Laurente sat down on the porch swing and listened gloomily to the music. Something about the softness of the air and the comfort of the swing made her feel drowsy. She had walked a long way, and they had been too long to stay awake for... nothing to live for!

"Laurente!" It was an excited masculine voice that shrieked her name, and she came awake all at once. "Where have you been?" Cary demanded. "Or is this the well-known run-around getting?"

Here. Your mother is so sorry, but you are at the club! Then I go there and everyone tells me the same thing. "Laurente was here. We saw her a minute ago. Please explain!" Cary was mockingly angry, but his eyes were serious. "Well?"

"Oh, Cary, I—I was there. I saw you, but you were with a girl. You got home late night. Why didn't you call me?"

"I got home two hours ago, you goof; and I had to stop at the house." His flushed face told Laurente he hadn't tarried so long. There was a decent greeting of parents allowed.

"As for the girl," Cary went on, "I don't know who she was. Someone over there introduced us. But I didn't even remember her name. Guess I wasn't even listening."

Laurente's smile came out and then suddenly disappeared. She had remembered something else. How did she look? Not very fetching to be sure after having fallen asleep in the swing. Face appeared in her eyes and Cary said quickly, "What is it now, Laurente? Are you ill?"

"Laurente smiled. 'No. Only I'd always planned on just how I would look for you the day you came home. And—look at me!' she wailed. 'Cary, let's go to a hotel of laughter. 'Is that all?' he said, mischievously. 'Well, I'll rumple your hair up a little more and then you'll look just gorgeous to me.' He came over to the swing and sat down beside her."

"Cary! Isn't it wonderful?" Laurente said softly.

"What?" moving a little closer. "Summer! It's everywhere. Haven't you noticed?"

"I'll notice it all right," Cary said, "after I've fasted my eyes for awhile. Now it's your turn to move over, Girl, come a little closer."

FOREST OUTLOOK
FOR B.C. IS GOOD

VANCOUVER.—The world demand for forest products from British Columbia should continue to be strong for some time—as in every other industry in Canada which must look to the export market to dispose of its production. E. P. Taylor, president of British Columbia Forest Products Limited, said here.

However, Mr. Taylor warned shareholders attending the first annual meeting of the company that future company operations must be planned to compete successfully in the world market when the present demand slackens. He forecasts strong competition from Russia, Finland and the Danubian countries.

Mongrel Dog Saves
His Master's Life

TERRACE, B.C.—"Mike," a dog of uncertain pedigree, was a hero to his master, G. C. Mueller, who would likely have frozen or starved to death if it had not been for his mongrel companion.

Mueller was pinned down by the boughs of a falling tree while working in the woods, and he set to work to free him. He clawed at the snow until he had made a hole large enough for his master to crawl out.

The quick surge of pride that she had felt on seeing him died suddenly. Cary was standing in the middle of a large group of people and a beautiful girl with snapping black eyes had a possessive hand on his arm. Laurente stood frozen to the spot. No one saw her. REPORT PROGRESS ON
NEW POULTRY BREEDS

Further progress is reported on the work of the Poultry Division, Experimental Farms Service, in the creation of new breeds of poultry to meet specific economic requirements. Chief of the breeds in the process of being evolved is what has been called the Large White, a breed possessing:

(a) white feathers for ease in breeding to a uniform or standard feather colour requirement under commercial conditions; (b) white flesh so that the bird may attain "Milk-fed" grading in so far as skin colour is concerned; (c) fast feathering for ease in plucking and to speed up the moult; and (d) white eggs for uniformity in marketing.

With regard to the attainment of this desirable breed, the latest annual report of the Dominion Minister of Agriculture states that the Large White which has been in the process of synthesis for the past eight years, now has reached the stage in its development at which more attention will be given to body type and skin colour. So far the work has been mainly limited to the task of establishing purity for skin and feather colour.

The other two breeds of chickens now being developed at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, the Broad Breasted White and the Small White have progressed still further toward the ideal envisaged for them. The Broad Breasted White is to develop largely into a meat type bird, possessing, however, good egg laying characteristics. The Small White will combine high egg production, standard egg size, and good body type about a pound less in weight than that of the Leghorn breed.

MORE ELECTRICAL POWER
STATIONS FOR BRITAIN

A four-year plan to provide Britain with at least 20 new electrical generating stations was outlined in a recent statement by the Central Electricity Board. The scheme also provides for improvements and extensions of existing stations—the expenditure is estimated at over $800,000,000. Plans at present producing power for the national grid provided over 9,000,000 kilowatts, and it is anticipated these new developments will add another 9,000,000 kilowatts.

DOWN CAKE

1 cup sifted Swans Down cake flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 square Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate, melted
3 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup sugar (*)

1/2 cup corn syrup or honey for sugar in topping. Add to melted butter with orange rind and mix well.

Melt 3 tablespoons butter in 8x8x2-inch pan over low flame; add sugar and orange rind and cook and stir until thoroughly mixed. On this arrange peach slices. Turn batter out on contents of pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 50 minutes, or until done. Loosen cake from sides of pan with knife or spatula. Turn upside down on dish with peaches on top. Serve warm, plain or with Whip Cream Fruit Sauce, using canned peach juice.

Note: For best results, have all ingredients at room temperature before mixing.

(*) You may substitute 1/2 cup corn syrup or honey for sugar in topping. Add to melted butter with orange rind and mix well.

Whipped Cream Fruit Sauce
1/2 cup juice from canned fruit
1 teaspoon granulated gelatin
1/2 cup light cream

Dish of salt.
Mix juice with gelatin in small bowl. Heat and stir over boiling water until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from boiling water, add cream and salt, and mix. Place in bowl of ice and water and whip to 7 minutes, or until mixture begins to set around edges. Remove from ice water; stir gently until smooth. Add sugar, if needed. Serve. Makes 14 cups.

SOMETHING REALLY NEW

A Cairn house-hunter who thought he had experienced every device known to landlords for mauling would-be tenants was taken aback when a landlady offered him an apartment on condition that he paid "dog-money," i.e. gave her $100 for a large and reputable mongrel which, she said, went with the flat.

Could Apply To Canada As Well

"The good life" of the big cities has obvious attractions, but there is evidence too that some city-dwellers would exchange their way of life for country living if they could be assured of jobs and homes. Projects aimed directly at rural rehabilitation, like afforestation, hydro-electric schemes, and the revival of local industries, will be salutary, but probably equally useful will be, paradoxically enough, the building of new, small towns which will serve the needs of country districts and satisfy social and cultural longings without at the same time becoming the insidious attraction of the big cities.—Glasgow Herald.

School Board Probes
Strapping Of Boy

TYNDALL, Man.—Charges that a 12-year-old school boy received 104 lashes with a strap were heard by the school board and teaching staff here.

It was claimed a teacher, Anne Christianson, whipped the strap. She told the meeting 60 or 70 lashes "would be nearer the number."

Peter Pyschum, assistant principal of the school, said no court action would be taken as the School Act places no limit on use of the strap, providing no physical injury results.

The board passed a resolution that any misdeed requiring more than two lashes on each hand, be referred to the principal or assistant principal.

Tyndall is about 20 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

GUEST EDITORIAL

(Alberta Educational Council)

Education is the most universal of all services. Practically all the people on this continent can read and write thanks to public education. Employers depend upon it to provide workers; we all depend on it to train the people who make our goods, take out our appendix, print our newspapers and in brief surround us with the amenities of civilization. What benefits all should be paid for by all—not by the half which happens to have its savings tied up in land and buildings.

Such is the argument of the municipal taxpayer; he has a well-grounded sense of injustice and doesn't feel disposed to budge until that justice is righted. We can't brush him off, either, because in general he is the backbone of our land—the owner-farmer who produces the bulk of our crops and keeps his land clean because it's his; the town store-proprietor
who is here to stay; the city wage and salary earner with a pride in his home. That is the sort of citizen who is saying today: "Lay off the mill-rate. Let all the people pay for the education of all the people."

We cannot deny the justice of his clamor. He is the sort of fellow who sees a movie three or four times a year, blows the froth off a very occasional beer, buys no records, smokes
an economical plug and drives an olderly car or none. His life and his wife, exemplify thrift, modest wants, and thought for the future. He sees around him people who take up fewer obligations and regard the future much more lightly; they can spend money like water, and they do. Nobody blames them (provided that they don't start yelling for social security, as soon as the boom goes sour). But it is difficult to see why they should enjoy permanent immunity from the tax burdens imposed on property-owners for the maintenance of the schools.

That, in brief, is why the provincial associations of municipal officers are more and more insistently demanding help from the Alberta Government which can and does tax everybody; and which receives large subsidies from the Dominion Government which also taxes everybody. Between them these two senior governments tax the consumers of liquor, tobacco, cosmetics, gramophones, radios, jewelry, amusements, automobiles, tires, and hundreds of things which are far less essential than farmlands and homes of our people; and which are costing us many times more than our starved educational system today.

During the past ten years of emergency we have not allowed our judiciary to fall to pieces, nor our police,
nor civil service, nor our postal service nor our railways, nor our parliaments. These have had behind them the broad taxation powers of our Dominion and Provincial Governments.
Only education, and particularly rural education, has been allowed to deteriorate towards the point of collapse.

ELMORE PHILPOTT, prominent newspaperman and columnist with a known as a radio commentator through his many CBC broadcasts. Mr. Philpott was heard commenting on international highlights during the broadcast of "Midweek Review", Wednesday, Feb. 5, at 11:15 p.m., over the CBC Trans-Canada network. Other commentators on this date were Chester Bloom, Ottawa correspondent of a Winnipeg newspaper, and Andrew Cowan, one of the CBC's overseas correspondents.

The children have been allowed to take the rap. Surely a very cowardly and unworthy policy!

How to pay for education? Tax the luxury spending of all the people—through Provincial channels—and make the Provincial grants big enough to put up good schools and put teachers in those schools.

FOR THE RECORD

Canada's post office, which according to well understood business principles, is supposed to be working for the people "at cost", actually is in the money-making business now, and for 1946 is expected to show a profit of $13,000,000.

Ever since penny postage was brought into being in Britain more than a century ago it has been the accepted practise of all governments to run the mails at cost. Reason for this was that a great deal of national business is carried on through the mails. The cheaper it is to send a letter of enquiry the more rational business, the more sales and national employment is likely to result.

On the other hand expensive postal costs for both business houses and private individuals tend to discourage both selling and buying by mail. In consequence the whole national economy is likely to suffer since not as many sales are made and not as much employment is created.

That is why it is positively immoral for Canada's post office to be overcharging the people of Canada by $18,000,000 a year. For substantial as this amount itself is, the amount lost to Canadian business, to workmen on pay cheques, is likely to be many times greater.

Why are these charges high in Canada? Because in March, 1943, the Federal government increased postal rates on all first-class mail by one cent for each letter or postcard. This increase was nothing other than an additional tax upon the people of Canada, who accepted it as such during the war years. That it was a tax was evident because the expenses of the post office were held down and in the first year of operation under the new rates there was a profit of $12-000,000 which was turned over to the ordinary revenues of the government.
As has been stated the profits for 1946
is expected to be $18,000,000.

It was expected that the postal rates in Canada would be reduced to pre-war levels at the latest by this time. In the United States, for instance, they never went up during the war years. And since the end of the war air mail rates there have been reduced from eight cents an ounce to five.

A year ago Postmaster-General Ernest Bertrand told the House of Commons that there would be an early reduction in postal rates in Canada, "possibly even greater than the one cent" imposed in 1943. He added that it was intended to send all first-class mail by air and that there would be other improvements in local delivery.

What has happened? There has been NO general reduction of postage rates. First-class mail is NOT being carried by air. There has, indeed, been a reduction in the charges for air mail across the Atlantic, but rates on these letters still remain much higher than the domestic air mail charge.

Why do the rates remain high? Is the Government not interested in making it easier for business to create employment?—Public Opinion.

dear. The hamburgers and the cake weighed about the same!"

PROVINCIAL BARLEY WINNERS

Cheques totalling $1,000 were presented to these four Alberta farmers
January 24, as prizes in the $25,000
National Barley Contest sponsored by the brewing and malting industries of Canada. In each province there were four provincial winners. The first prize—$400, was won by George W. Johnson, Sylvan Lake, bottom row, left. At right, bottom, is Ted Cas-avant, Legal, who placed second and was awarded $300. Louis St. Arnaud, Vimy, top row, left, won third prize

of $200 and Ray Nemea top right, was fourth and received $100. The four provincial winners were picked from 35 regional winners and they still have a chance to place in the inter-provincial contest which carries four cash prizes of $1,000, $500, $300 and $200. The inter-provincial awards will be made at the Manitoba Winter Fair to be held at Brandon the week of March 31st. Presentation of cheques to the Alberta winners was made at a banquet at the Palliser Hotel, Calgary, tendered by the Alberta Brewers' Association.

JUDGES PICK ALBERTA WINNERS

Grain experts who know requirements of good barley in the inspection rooms of the Board of Grain Commissioners at Winnipeg on December 31 picked out samples of 35 Alberta farmers as the best entries from their Province in the $25,000 National Barley Contest sponsored by the Brewing and Malting Industries of Canada. Four were picked as Provincial winners, and the other 31 were awarded cash prizes in their regions. In all they took $2,585 of the prize money. Best sample of Alberta Malting Barley in 1946 was grown by George W. Johnson, Red Deer, awarded $400. The other three Provincial winners were Ted Casavant, Legal, $300; Louis St. Arnaud, Vimy, $200; and Ray Nemea, $100. Left to right in the picture is judging panel, A. C. Wilson, Edmonton, Alberta Field Crops Commissioner; Prof. A. G. McCall, head of Plant Science Division, University of Alberta; F. S. Ludman, Winnipeg, Chief Inspector, Board of Grain Commissioners; J. E. Blakeman, Winnipeg, District Inspector of Dominion Department of Agriculture Plants Product Division; A. T. Elders, Canada Mailing Co., Winnipeg. Missing from the panel is D. S. Kaufman, Dominion Mailing Co. In front of judges is Prof. T. J. Harrison, Chairman of the National Barley Contest Committee. The Alberta Provincial champions are contenders in the inter-provincial contest, which carries four prizes of $1,000, $500, $300, and $200. These will be determined at the Manitoba Winter Fair at Brandon the week of March 31.

PLASTICS FROM SAND

A very important new kind of plastic material is being made from sand, which is a chemical combination of the element silicon with oxygen.
When combined further with hydrogen, compounds now known as "silicones" are produced, some of which vie with the best plastics we have made so far, and have better qualities
in withstanding high temperatures.
Silicone plastics are being used as an insulating coating for the wire used in winding electric motors. They have such high insulating qualities that only a very thin coating is required, and this helps in reducing the size of a motor to dimensions that otherwise would be impossible. They are used in the construction of many cities, and then permit a bunch of irresponsible men to exhibit each night crime-breeding pictures within the shadow of the school building, just to make a few dollars, is beyond my comprehension. Such pictures in one night uproot all the good seed which the schools can plant in a month. It is exactly like appropriating money for a fire department, and then permitting every one to set the buildings on fire to collect insurance.—Alliance

IMPORTANT GOVERNMENT NOTICE

Respecting Price Control

The Wartime Prices and Trade Regulations (Order in Council P.C. 8528 of November 1, 1941) established basic period maximum prices for goods and designated services. These regulations were passed under the authority of the War Measures Act and continued in force under the National Emergency Transitional Powers Act, 1945.

From time to time these basic maximum prices have been varied or the fixed maximum has been suspended in the case of particular goods and services by Orders issued by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board under the authority of the above Regulations. A few days ago a substantial number of suspensions from price control was announced.

I believe it is desirable therefore that a summary should now be published of those goods and services on which a legal maximum price remains in force under the provisions of the Wartime Prices and Trade Regulations so that all citizens may be given an opportunity to inform themselves of the law.

The complete price control regulations are contained in Wartime Prices and Trade Board Order No. 684 which is available to the public at any office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, and to which reference should be made for exact details.

Douglas Coosa
Minister of Finance.

Canada's Navy

DURING THE WAR the Royal Canadian Navy rose to a high place among the naval forces of the Allied nations, and served with distinction in many parts of the world. As was the case in all the armed services, naval personnel was recruited from every part of the Dominion, but it was frequently noted that a large percentage of those who served in the Navy came from the Prairie Provinces, and although they are situated so far from the sea, it is probable that many from the Prairies will be included in the complement of 10,000 officers and ratings who will make up the peacetime strength of Canada's Navy. A recent report issued from Naval Service headquarters at Ottawa, showed that 8,600 officers and ratings have already been taken on, and that applications for entry or re-entry are averaging more than 2,000 a month, of which about 200 are being accepted.

We Now Have A Modern Fleet

The report from Naval headquarters also drew attention to the fact that we now have a modern fleet which includes an aircraft carrier, two cruisers, destroyers, frigates and Algonquin escort vessels. A second aircraft carrier will be added to the Navy at the end of 1947. Canada's first aircraft carrier is the 18,000-ton Warrior, which was commissioned at Belfast, Ireland, over a year ago. The Warrior recently completed a six weeks training cruise from Halifax to her winter base at Esquimalt, B.C., and this was but one of many training cruises which have been taken by vessels of the Royal Canadian Navy since the end of the war. These cruises not only provide training for their crews, but in some cases serve also to cement goodwill between Canada and the neighboring countries which these ships visit in the course of their voyages.

Conversion To Needs Of Peace

Reference is also made in the Naval headquarters report to the steady reconversion of various departments of the Navy to peacetime requirements, and to the inauguration of a new training program afloat and ashore. Naval bases at Halifax and Esquimalt, B.C., are being converted to meet the needs of the new training program, and in addition there are a number of inland stations with what are described as "unequaled training facilities". In all there are nineteen Naval divisions across Canada, where it is expected that 18,000 reserve personnel will receive training. These are only a few of the many interesting facts given in the annual report issued from Naval headquarters, but they outline some of the duties which occupy Canada's growing Navy in time of peace.

Financial Benefits For Unemployed Increased

Sixty thousand people in Britain will benefit from the new regulations regarding unemployment pay just published by the Minister of National Insurance. Benefits are not normally payable for more than 6 months and the Government have now decided to increase this statutory period for those who can show that they will be entitled to extended assistance owing to age, physical disability, or other special difficulties. These regulations are actually in anticipation of provisions contained in the National Insurance Act which does not come into full operation till 1948.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN METHOD OF PLAY

W. L. Clarke, in the Windsor Star says: Little boys in Europe play with drums and guns and they march and parade.

Little boys in Canada and the United States play with hockey sticks and baseball bats and they have spirited battles on the rinks and diamonds.

That's the difference. Over there the children are brought up to think that sooner or later they are going to have to fight a war against someone. Over here the children are brought up with the idea that life is supposed to be pleasant.

If that war idea could be driven out of the heads of the children over there, this world might have more chance of peace.

British Papers Unable To Increase Size

LONDON. — An increase in the newspaper ration to permit British newspapers to operate on a six-page basis will be impossible before July unless the supply situation changes, the trade paper Newspaper World said.

Newspaper World said Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, had told a publisher's deputation that Canadian imports and estimated home production left a 67,000-ton gap between supply and consumption on a six-page basis.

No currency will be freed for further Scandinavian imports and Canadian manufacturers are not expected to be able to increase shipments, Sir Stafford said.

The trade paper said a position could arise where newspaper sales might have to be pegged again to assist an increase in sizes.

SPIRITUAL JOY

The angel said unto them, Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.—Luke 2:10.

What happiness is, the Bible alone shows clearly—and certainly, and points out the way that leads to the attainment of it.—Coleridge.

Who that has felt the loss of human peace has not gained stronger desires for spiritual joy? The aspiration after heavenly good comes even before we discover what belongs to wisdom and Love.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Happiness and virtue rest upon each other; the best are not only the happiest, but the happiest are usually the best.—Bulwer.

The strength and the happiness of a man consists in finding out the way in which God is going, and going in that way, too.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Every heart that has beat strong and cheerfully has left a hopeful impulse behind it in the world, and bettered the tradition of mankind.—Stevenon.

Adam and Eve were naming the animals of the earth when along came a rhinoceros.

"What shall we call this one?" asked Adam.

"Let's call it a rhinoceros."

"But why a rhinoceros?"

"Well, because it looks more like a rhinoceros than anything we've named yet."

The lady of the house suspected one of her sons was paying attention to the attractive maid. Anxious to find out which one, she asked the girl: "Nora, suppose you had the opportunity to go to the movies with one of my sons, which one would you choose?"

"Well," replied the girl, "it's hard to say, for I've had grand times with both of them, but for a real frolicking spree, give me the boss!"

Cattle In Britain Killed By Poison Gas

SHELLEY, Eng.—Farmers donned gas masks to rescue their cattle from grazing fields menaced by poison gas. Thousands of poison gas bombs were stored in dumps between Shelley and Penkridge by American troops during the war. They began leaking several weeks ago.

When cattle began to die from inhaling the fumes, the Denby council asked the military of supply to seek immediate removal of the bombs. The dump area is still marked with U.S. Army signs proclaiming: "Deadly gas. Don't be a sucker."

Canada's Export Trade Rising To New Records

OTTAWA—Canada's export trade, which fell off sharply after the war with discontinuance of munitions shipments and lack of shipping, is rolling up new peacetime records, Trade Minister MacKinnon announced.

During 1946, the minister announced, the Dominion's exports rose to a total value of $2,312,000,000, or more than 214 times as great as the five-year pre-war average from 1935-39.

"It is encouraging to note that despite the elimination of these war goods from our export trade," Mr. MacKinnon said, "the volume of peacetime commodities has been maintained at a high enough level to ensure full employment in Canada's great but vulnerable export industries."

The two principal groups on the receiving end of Canadian shipments last year were the United States and the United Kingdom, Canada's best trading customers ever since confederation. Exports to the United States were valued at $888,000,000, half of which represented Canadian forestry products with newspaper the largest single item. Agricultural products and base metals made up much of the remainder.

To the United Kingdom during 1946 Canada exported goods valued at $597,000,000, financed in part from proceeds of the Canadian loan. Food products represented two-thirds of these exports.

Top export items were newgrain valued at $285,000,000; wheat, $240,300,000; wheat flour, $128,700,000; planks and boards, $125,400,000; woodpulp, $114,000,000; ash, $85,600,000; automobiles, $78,300,000; $78,300,000; bacon and ham, $66,400,000; aluminum, $56,000,000; and nickel, $55,200,000.

ALLIES BAN NEWS OF NAZI LEADERS

NUERNBERG.—The allies have determined to wash the names of Hitler's leaders out of print and their deeds out of mind so they never can contribute to new German legends, it has been learned.

This policy has been adopted by the allied control council in Berlin for Nazi leaders generally and specifically for the seven Nazis who were convicted with Hermann Goering, Joachim Von Ribbentrop and others but were given only jail terms.

"They are Admiral Erich Raeder, life imprisonment, and Karl Doenitz, 10 years; Walter Funk, banker, life; diplomat Constantin Von Neurath, 15 years; munitions maker Albert Speer, 20 years; youth leader Bahner Von Schirach, 20 years; and deputy Fuehrer Rudolf Hess, life.

The order is that no news of any of the seven ever is to be divulged—that all their actions and comments are to be secret. The secrecy was believed advocated by the Soviet spokesman in Berlin since the Russians have long felt the best way for the people to forget any individual is by silence.

"The Russians never have disclosed what they found in Hitler's Berlin bunker, or whether they ever had the body. They never have said Hitler was dead.

BRITAIN FROWNS ON SUNDAY SOCCER

LONDON.—The possibility of Sunday football in Britain is about as bright as Sabbath horse racing in Canada. The Football association, ruling body of the sport, not only frowns upon Sunday soccer, it refuses to discuss it.

Some relaxation was allowed during the war because men in the services often could play only on Sundays. Long hours in industry had the same effect and Sunday sport became respectable.

With the end of the war, the F.A. returned to normal. Any player found playing Sunday football is liable to be banned for life from competition under F.A. jurisdiction.

LONDON AUTHORITIES HAVE NEW PROBLEM

LONDON.—Desperate Londoners—driven by the housing shortage to buying surplus invasion craft and converting them into homes on the Thames—now face tightening government regulations for their "floating homes." London authorities are gravely concerned over the lack of ventilation and sanitation in some of the converted landing craft and torpedo boats. As a result legislation regulating living conditions in houseboats is to be introduced in the near future.

United States Withdraws Marines From China's Civil War Area

—Eases U.S.-Soviet Tension

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of State George C. Marshall abandoned hope of peacefully mediating China's civil war and gave the signal to yank all U.S. marines from the war-torn country.

His decision has the immediate effect of letting both Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government and the Chinese Communists "stew in their own juice."

His long-range strategy is that withdrawal of all American "good offices" may cause both sides to recede from their uncompromising attitudes.

Immediate effect of the move will be:

1. "Return home orders" for an estimated 10,000 marines and about 2,000 U.S. army officers at the executive headquarters which was established by Marshall to maintain the truce he negotiated a year ago.

2. Possible resignation of Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart, who was selected earlier this year because of his many years in the Orient and his long experience as a mediator with Chinese factions.

Recall of the marines will ease increasing tension between the United States and Soviet Russia in that area. Soviet propagandists and officials for months have denounced the presence of the U.S. leathernecks. Russia withdrew her troops from Manchuria last spring.

CANADA TO REVISE RULES ON SECURITIES

OTTAWA.—The foreign exchange control board has taken further steps to prevent the flow of U.S. dollar resources out of Canada and back into the United States.

The board announced that it had revised the rules governing trading on outside security markets of Canadian securities payable in United States funds. The ruling affects securities which mature or have their earliest call date within three years.

Effective immediately, the board said, permits will be granted to residents of Canada for the sale of such securities on outside markets only if the U.S. funds resulting from the sale are sold to a bank in Canada, or simultaneously reinvested in other Canadian foreign security of equal or short maturity. Up to the present it has been permissible to reinvest the proceeds from such sales in United States securities.

FENCE-JUMPING OF CHINESE GENERAL

NANKING.—It could happen only in China.

Gen. Ho Peng-Chu, who has been commanding 50,000 Chinese Communist troops in their battles against government forces along the critical Kiangsu-Shantung border, decided it wasn't a satisfactory way of life—so now he is commanding a government army instead. Same troops, too.

The official central news agency reported the switch with high supporting detail. General Ho's latest fence-jumping in his fourth such swap, the government agency related.

During the war, the former Nationalist government militarist became commander of Chinese puppet (anti-government, pro-Japanese) troops in the Huachow-Haihow area. After Japan's surrender, he reappeared, heaving, as a government army officer.

Call Conference To Stabilize Wheat Prices

WASHINGTON.—The international wheat council called a conference to draft an agreement stabilizing wheat prices and supplies and dividing the world market. It will be held in London beginning March 6.

The council is an agency composed of major wheat producing and importing countries. It was created before the war in a move to deal with chronic surpluses which plagued producers in such major exporting countries as the United States, Canada, Argentina and Australia.

A tentative agreement was drafted at that time, but it was abandoned when the war eliminated the surplus problem.

An inter-government agreement to deal with surpluses of wheat and other farm products was recommended recently by the United Nations preparatory commission on proposals for improving world nutrition and stabilizing farm income.

The London meeting is expected to consider the commission's proposal that future international commodity agreements provide for disposing of surpluses to undernourished areas at cut-rate prices.

The United States, Canada and Australia have expressed interest in such a program. In its report the commission said these countries can produce wheat efficiently and in large quantities and dilute the idea of restricting future production.

The commission also recommended that wheat and other commodity agreements provide for special famine stockpiles and other reserves. Buying for and selling to them would be used to stabilize prices at levels considered fair to consumers and producers alike.

The London conference also is expected to consider other commission recommendations that a wheat agreement provide maximum and minimum prices in world export markets and that such an agreement be made for a five-year period with provision for extension.

Members of the wheat council include Canada, the United Kingdom, Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, China, Denmark, France, India, Italy, the Netherlands and the United States.

OTTAWA.—Trade Minister MacKinnon welcomed the announcement from Washington that the international wheat council had called a conference in London and said the Canadian wheat council had called a conference in London and said the Canadian government had been advocating such a step since the end of the war.

For the last year and a half, he said in a statement, the international wheat council had been "developing a sufficient consensus among the principal wheat exporting and importing countries to warrant the calling of an international conference on wheat with reasonable prospects for its success," he said.

SHORTAGE OF TEACHERS

EDMONTON.—Canada has a shortage of approximately 7,000 qualified teachers, Dr. C. E. Phillips of Toronto, executive secretary of the Canadian education association, said in an interview here. Dr. Phillips said surveys of teacher-training institutions conducted in recent weeks indicate that the shortage will be about 6,000 in three years.

British Plan—Import Grains To Produce Own Dairy Products

LONDON.—A cryptic remark made by Food Minister Strachey, that "we hope to be able to import the right things for feeding pigs and poultry later," refers to the big prospective imports of feed grain. They will be by far the biggest since the outbreak of the war.

Strachey made the remark at a press conference in which he discussed phases of Britain's food problems.

His reference to "later" means that a large part of the feed grain imports may not arrive until the fall. But the shipments should start increasing soon. It is authoritatively indicated here that the total quantity, when it can be announced, will be found gratifying.

This is a good augury for future supplies of beer and whiskey. It is also good news for Denmark and many other European countries which require feed grain imports.

It is understood Britain's purchase of 500,000 tons of Argentine wheat is definite. "Details" now being arranged, are believed to be concerned with enlarging the contract by a still greater quantity of feed grain.

If the Argentine wheat, when it arrives, enables the flour extraction rate to be reduced, it would release valuable extra feeds (wheat offals) for livestock. It would also mean whiter bread.

Feed grains, particularly corn, are also likely to be an important feature of the March-June grain export allocations from the United States, which are shortly to be announced. The United States has far more of them than can be used.

Feed grains from both North America and Argentina are dear, though not nearly so dear as wheat. But it is cheaper to import feed grains at almost any price than to import the dairy products—eggs which they produce. Britain's shortage of hard currency thus works in favor of buying more grains as soon as they can be bought.

PLANE FOR QUEEN SAFEST IN WORLD

WISLEY, Surrey, Eng.—The air minister has taken the wraps off what was planned as the world's safest aircraft—a twin-engine Viking which will be used to carry the queen during the royal family's South African tour.

The plane is fitted with almost every air safety device known to the British aircraft industry. Of 5,500 horsepower it is one of four in "the king's flight."

Four types of radar equipment for position fixing; beam approach and glide path communication; a radio compass and radio altimeter plus five channels of wireless communication; crash-chutecut for every passenger; crash-proof fuel tanks reducing the fire risk in the event of a forced landing; specially strengthened crash-proof armchairs in the royal saloon; blow-out dinghies fitted in the engine nacelles along with automatic fire extinguishers.

Each plane has a pantry capable of turning out complete meals if necessary.

DENMARK NOT SELLING GREENLAND

COPENHAGEN.—Danish Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen told the newspaper Politiken that "it is an absurd idea that Denmark should be considering selling Greenland to the United States."

"I have not participated in Danish-American talks to that effect mentioned by (the newspaper) Ekstra-Bladet," he said.

Meanwhile, Christmas Moeller, former foreign minister and other prominent political leaders, told the Conservative Nationaltidende that the Danish people would not agree to selling Greenland.

In Washington, state department officials said no negotiations for the purchase of Greenland have been held, and no purchase proposals made.

U.S. PASSES MEASURE TO KEEP LUXURY TAX

WASHINGTON.—The house of representatives passed a measure to keep taxes on liquor, jewelry, furs, cosmetics and other specially-taxed items at their wartime levels.

The roll call vote was announced as 373 for and 35 against.

The action came as the first major decision on legislation since the Republicans gained control of congress.

"What the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, Frank, there's a whole tangle of troubles to be straightened out all over the world. Makes your head swim to think of it."

"And yes, Jim, most of it springs from one cause—suspicion. You and I wouldn't be very good neighbours if we suspected each other of all sorts of skulduggery. Actually, what the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, the life insurance business is a good example. British life insurance companies have had offices in Canada since 1833 and several of our Canadian companies are well known throughout the United Kingdom."

"What about American companies?"

"We found it good business to be good neighbours with the American life insurance companies. We welcome them here. They carry almost one-third of all the life insurance in force in Canada. And our Canadian companies are well liked in the U.S.A. where they do a large and increasing business. As a matter of fact, they are well and favourably known throughout the world. Nearly half the business of the Canadian companies is outside Canada."

Life insurance is truly an international business—a neighbourly business. At home Canadians buy their life insurance as they choose from British or United States or Canadian companies. And our Canadian life insurance companies abroad! Who can assess the value to Canada of the confidence in the Dominion which they have built up over the years in their dealings with tens of thousands of foreign clients and of their services in establishing Canada's reputation for financial integrity and security throughout the world?

A message from the Life Insurance Companies in Canada and their agents.

Farmers WILL BENEFIT

The Alberta Motor Association believes that farmers are vitally interested in the improvement of our Roads and Highways. Good roads enable farmers to market their products in the easiest and most economical manner, especially in the case of perishable products.

Improved highways are vital to the trucker if he is to deliver your products to market economically, regularly and in the best condition possible. It costs from one to eight cents a mile more to travel on mud roads than on gravel or paved highways.

Improved highways also enable the farmer to do his shopping and other business much more economically and pleasantly. They are a great boon to the farmer's wife and family.

The recently announced $9,500,000 program of the Alberta Government for 1947, if carried out and repeated over a period of years, should have a marked influence in improving the motor transportation in all parts of the Province and be of particular benefit to all rural citizens, especially farmers.
